the aim of withdrawing the best existing practices concerning the training of professionals who work close to children, victims of sexual violence and to release fundamental criteria.

The specific objectives of the programme are:

- To identify the good practices and the gaps that exist in the partners' countries concerning the training of professionals working with children victims, before, during and after the interview/hearing.
- To discuss on the different possibilities of creating a basic training module, common to all professionals working close to the child, which will lead afterwards towards specific trainings for each activity: judicial, police service, psychological, medical or social.
- To discuss about the content of a common procedure to train professionals, which will be the best adapted for the needs defined before between the partners.
- To promote the multidisciplinary and international cooperation thanks to the organisation of several International Meetings between the partners.

This programme is at destination of all professionals working in the frame of the taking in charge and collection of the evidence of the children, victims of sexual violence: doctors and medical team, police officers, public prosecutor, lawyers and judges, psychologists, social workers, ad hoc administrators, associations for childhood's protection.

The TRAIN TOGETHER programme, of the duration of two years (January 2008 – December 2009), plans:

- The organisation of a first International Meeting among the partners of the programme that will take place in Paris in May 2008.
- The taking place of a National Steering Committee in each country to establish the situation analysis of the practices concerning the training of professional working on the taking in charge and collection of evidence of children, victims of sexual violence. Each Committee will be formed by professionals.
- The organisation of the second International Meeting that will take place in Brussels in December 2008 for the discussion of the basics lines of a common professional training among the partners.
- The organisation of several meetings of the National Steering Committee.
- The organisation of a third International Meeting in Warsaw in May 2009. This meeting will have the aim to reach the taking place of a training and specialisation programme and the proposition of cooperation agreement at the European level among the professional engaged in the programme.
- The preparation of the final report and the CD Rom with the information collected.
- The organisation of a Final International Conference, open to public and public authorities, for the diffusion of the programme results and the final report. This Conference will take place in Paris in November 2009.
